TESTIMONIAL

"I work a lot of hours, and when I first got my pet bird, Remmy, (an Australian Finch) as a gift from a chain pet store, I started to notice my bird was getting cooped up, lonely and frustrated. He'd squawk at me loudly when I was came and when I wasn't, he would pull his feathers out and make a mess and sometimes not eat. After I started to use TreeTops on him (I'd spray his cage area and over his feathers), I noticed he slowly began to change. He started to sing with the other birds outside our window or would perk up and chirp when I came home. His appetite gradually came back and has stayed this way. I continue to keep Treetops as part of Remmy's regular routine and notice he stays more balanced year round."

A Balancing Essence For Birds

The Science of Vibration... The Art of Healing™

Shanti Kai™

*How does TREETOPS™ Essence Work ?

Flower Essences have been used since the 1930's to help restore balance to the body's energy field. Shanti Kai™ Essences are unique in that they contain carefully crafted blends of Hawaiian flowers and gemstones— drawing from an ingredient base of over 400 individual essences (also offered on our website). In Western Medicine, we attempt to heal at a symptomatic level or by eradicating disease through surgery or medications. Shanti Kai™ Essences are based on the “science of vibration” and seek to alter the subtle energy fields in the four bodies (physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual) so that they resonate according to their optimal health levels.

Our pets live in the environment we create for them, often experiencing the same stress that we do, and they can become energetically imbalanced the same way we do. Pet Essences offer a safe, gentle alternative for balancing stress. While you may see immediate benefits when using Shanti Kai™ Essences, it is important to remember that essences work best with consistent use over time.

*About TREETOPS™

Treetop Paradise is our uplifting spritzer for birds that was originally designed for a volunteer who was working with abandoned birds at an animal sanctuary. Often, these birds were injured, self mutilating, traumatized and/or depressed. In the wild, birds are constantly exposed to essential oils contained in the leaves, flowers, and bark of many plants and trees. They are also constantly interacting with the vibrational fields in nature, experiencing the different smells and energies found in the wild. In captivity, birds do not have the benefit of these vibrational fields and naturally occurring essential oils, and that can sometimes lead to stress and imbalance, sometimes resulting in depression or illness and/or undesirable behaviors such as plucking, self-mutilation and/or aggression. Treetops is made with over 16 Hawaiian Tree-flower Essences; these carry the “seed blueprint”, or rather the vibrational energies of the entire tree or plant that birds in the wild are normally exposed to, and this may help with alleviating stress and imbalance.

*About TREETOPS™

In Hawaii, we have an ever growing flock of wild green parrots that escaped from their cages sometime ago and have since propagated the islands. By following these parrots, we were able to track their favorite treetop hangouts, and obtain the flowers from these trees. Our proprietary Treetops™ Bird Essence Blend contains a carefully crafted blend of healing-focused gemstone essences (including green and yellow sapphires) but is largely comprised of many tree flower essences, particularly from the ones that parrots love. These include rare trees and some that bloom only once a year for very short intervals, rendering them difficult to obtain and treasured ingredients. We are proud to be able to bring these vibrational infusions containing the essence of paradise all the way from our home, to yours.

Applying TREETOPS™

5-7 sprays 2x/day or as needed or desired. Spray over feathers, cage area, or mix in with bathing water (bird bath). Works best when used consistently over time. NOTE: It is important to consider diet, exercises, water intake and other factors when using essences.
